IN the December issue of the "Nor-West Farmer" there are articles on "The Sheep Industry" and "The Chemistry of Wheat and its products," also the results of tests at Indian Head Experimental farm, all of which are of special interest to farmers in the west. WINNIPEG Tribune: According to the C. P. R. returns, approximately 40,000 head of cattle have been shipped east for export to England, 20,000 head for the United States markets, and 20,000 west, principally stockers. The numbers sent south and west are practically the same as last year, but there is a decrease of 2,000 in the number sent east.

THE new imperial penny or two-cent postage stamps are out. They are much larger than the ordinary stamp and show a map of the world, with the British possessions in red. In a line along the bottom of the stamp are the words: "We hold a Greater Empire than has been." These stamps are commemorative, and will doubtless afterwards be replaced by another design. They can be used as two cents ordinary postage. The two-cent imperial rate does not take effect until Christmas.

JOHN REDMAN, writes from Edmonton to his former home in Chippewa Falls, Wisconsin: "We have moved from Sturgeon to the Miller farm in Stony Plain. We are very well satisfied with the crop raised by us on the Sturgeon. You can tell the 'cranks,' that seventy acres of land raised 3,800 bushels of No. 1, grain: oats, slightly bushels to the acre; wheat, fifty bushels, and I helped to thresh on an adjoining farm which had 19,000 bushels of oats—the Geo. Hutton farm—and can tell of scores of others."

A VERY successful Christmas tree entertainment for the day school children was held in the Agricultural school house on Friday. There was a large attendance the building being crowded to the doors, over half the audience finding only standing room. The chair was occupied by Frank Oliver, M. P. The programme, which included songs, recitations, dialogues and organ solos was well presented throughout, the school children reflecting the greatest credit on their teacher, Mrs. Easton, as well as on their parents and themselves. Organ solos were given by Mrs. Cassadine and Miss Davies, with violin accompaniment by Prof. Beaver. Mr. Wakeford's graphophone was an important addition to the entertainment. After the tree had been cleared of presents for the little ones a handsome test set was presented to the teacher by the pupils. A handsome sum was realized which will go to improvements on the school building. After the entertainment had been concluded dancing followed for those who wished to remain, and concluded a very enjoyable evening.

HUDSON'S BAY ROUTE.

Jas. Fisher, M. P. P., special commissioner of the Manitoba government, who accompanied the Dominion government expedition to Hudson's Bay, has reported adversely on the route. Although the straits are unquestionably navigable from the latter end of July to the latter end of October, Mr. Fisher's conclusion is that "If we had a route by Hudson's Bay to-morrow it would not be a factor in transporting the products of Manitoba and the west." The report is very lengthy, but instead of being chiefly composed of facts which have been established by the expedition, or other authorities regarding the route, it is a re-hash of all the arguments that has ever been used against it. The advantages are carefully minimized, and the difficulties exaggerated. A very weak point in Mr. Fisher's chain of evidence is that while he is at all pains to establish the fact of the late opening of the straits, he has no absolute facts to give regarding the date of their closing, but takes all means of creating the impression that they close early. Clearly the Manitoba annex of the expedition was as opposed to the Hudson's Bay route as the expedition itself, if both are to be judged by their reports. However, it will be a good thing if the reports resulting from the Diana expedition will effectually discredit the Hudson's Bay route at the present time; for if it were to be built now it would, like the Crow's Nest pass road, only be another lap of the chain of monopoly. Better that it should wait until a time comes when it will be used to break monopoly.

The treaty commission at Washington has adjourned to meet on Jan. 5th. From present appearances the Laurier government stands to score on this proposed treaty as it did on the fast Atlantic line. The more complete its failure the more complete its success. After manifesting every willingness to make concessions, to come away without having made any will be a triumph of statesmanship. With Dingley as chief man on the United States commission a treaty that would be fair to Canada cannot reasonably be expected, and any treaty that Mr. Dingley would agree to would be looked upon with very grave suspicion by the majority of Canadians. From every point of view failure is the best success that the Canadian commissioners can attain.

BOARD OF TRADE.
A meeting of the Edmonton board of trade was held in the fire hall on Thursday evening, the president, C. Gallagher in the chair. The president read his annual address as follows:

GENTLEMEN: The year 1898, which is now drawing to a close, has been the most important one in the history of the town and district of Edmonton.
The business done by the merchants was a large one in comparison with former years. The number of business houses has increased, and it is gratifying to find that the large financial institutions of Canada are making, and that within the last few months a branch of the Merchants bank has been established here—so that with it, the Imperial and Jacques Cartier banks—the financial institutions are well represented.

The population not only of the town of Edmonton, but also of the surrounding places, such as South Edmonton, Fort Saskatchewan and St. Albert, is increasing rapidly.

The settlement of Northern Alberta is going ahead with more rapidity than any other portion of the Northwest Territories, as may be judged from the fact that during the past 17 months, settlers have to the extent of $35,105.00 from the United States alone, were entered at the custom house here. While the importation of agricultural implements is just double for 1898 to what it was in 1897.

The mining industry of the north and west, and also in our own river (the North Saskatchewan) has received more attention this year than ever before, there was only $5,866.00 worth of mining machinery passed at customs here in 1897, and this year, 1898, the importation was $5,838.00.

A large gold dredge named "The Otter" was launched this fall too late to commence operations, but is now ready for next spring. This dredge is the first one built for use on the North Saskatchewan river, after the pattern of "hose used in New Zealand, where the same kind of gravel and fine gold occur, and which have proven a great success. I have every hope of seeing next season several similar dredges at work, securing the gold that everyone of us knows is not only in the Saskatchewan, but every other river lying to the northwest of Edmonton.

There are rumors of valuable galena and gold quartz finds on Great Slave lake, and also of mica, (sheets of which, 12x14 can be had, I am credibly informed) galena and quartz having been found in the vicinity of Fort Graham on the Findlay river.

The Northwest government deserves great credit for the manner in which it went to work to open the new road from Edmonton to Peace River, but it is hoped that both it and the Dominion government will expend sufficient money to put the said road from here to Peace River, and from St. John to Fort Nelson, and thence up the Sicannie river to the junction of Dease and Liard rivers in good travelling shape. The miners who left here in March last, have done a lot of volunteer work on the route I allude to. The opening of this road is of importance to the whole Dominion.

Capitalists seeking investment will find here at Edmonton a good opening for a first class roller process flour mill of a capacity of at least 200 barrels, and also for a woolen factory, and there are other manufacturing industries which are required here.

In closing, gentlemen, I beg to point out to the Dominion government, that its dilatory, and inexplicable delay with reference to the completion of the bridge across the Saskatchewan river at Edmonton is a serious drawback to the whole country. The correspondence from the minister of public works is anything, but satisfactory to men accustomed to seeing business done on a business basis, instead of what it looks to everyone in the north as if it were just the opposite.

There are two other matters to which our board should call the attention of the Dominion government, viz:

1st, That the time has arrived when the custom house here should be kept open during the same business hours as the Calgary and other custom houses. The duty collected this year amounted to some $22,000, and I certainly think that the government can well afford to give our collector an assistant so that the general public will not be put to the inconvenience it now is, owing to the office being open for such a short time daily. I do not want to insinuate anything against Mr. Osborne, our collector of customs, who is an always courteous and obliging, but it is an impossibility for him to be at the railway station and at his office at the same time.

2nd, The necessity that exists for the establishment at once of a regular mail service between Edmonton and the Peace River.
And now gentlemen there is something else of importance before concluding that I must refer to, and that is with reference to the interest which every business man, and settler in Northern Alberta should take in our board of trade. The board was not formed in the interests of this town alone, but also in the interests of other towns in the north which did not have the necessary population to keep up a board of trade of their own. It was also formed for the general benefit of every settler in Northern Alberta.

I regret to say that neither by the town of Edmonton, other towns, or by the settlers, has it received the financial or personal support it is justly entitled to. The work done by it is very important, often matters of vital interest to the whole of Northern Alberta crop up, which can only be treated by an organization such as our board of trade is—the work is done—and the general public get the benefit of the board's labors and want more work done, as long as they (the public) are not called on to assist financially. This is selfish in the extreme. It cannot go on so, and I trust that I have only to call attention to the absence of financial aid and also to the smallness of our membership for this year, 1898, (which is only 25) to have both remedied.

The board should have a good office, in which could be found samples of Northern Alberta's grains and grasses, mineral specimens, emigration and mining literature, so that when strangers arrive they could go to the office and find out with as little trouble as possible, authentic information as to the resources, not only of the town and surrounding district, but also of the vast country lying to the immediate north, and also northwest of Edmonton.

If we want to progress, everybody must join hands and make our board a model one, it has the foundation laid already and only wants more aid and enterprise on the part of the people.

In submitting my ideas, gentlemen, I have to thank you for the honor that was done in selecting me your president for the year 1898, and to wish the board, town and country the best of success for 1899.

Yours faithfully,

C. GALLAGHER,

President board of trade.

Edmonton, Alberta, N. W. T., December 22nd, 1898.
The address was formally received and adopted by the board.

After discussion it was decided to hold regular meetings in the forenoon commencing at 10 o'clock.

F. Villeneuve, M. L. A., gave notice of a motion to provide for monthly meetings of the hall board.

The election of officers will take place at the annual meeting to be held in February as provided by by-law.

It was decided to hold a banquet some time in January, and the president, Mr. Gallagher, the secretary, Mr. Tims, F. Villeneuve, M. L. A., and Messrs. McDougall, Robertson, Jackson and Cowie, were appointed a committee to make the arrangements.

The following committee was appointed to consider and report on a site for agricultural show grounds: President and Messrs. Picard, Robertson and Cowie.

THE MANITOBA OAT MARKET.

Commercial, Winnipeg, Dec. 17. Deliveries of oats have been light at country points and prices have been firm, particularly for good milling samples. The most of the oats offering have been poor quality, in consequence of which comparatively high prices are being offered for good milling samples, 15c to 18c, being paid for ordinary grades and as high as 20c to 23c for choice samples, at some country markets, per bushel of 34 pounds. In the Winnipeg market prices for car lots are about the same as last week, ranging from 24c to 26c as to quality, the latter prices for good No. 2 white for milling purposes, and a couple of cents higher would be paid for No. 1 white. On the street market here 23c to 25c has been paid to farmers, as to quality, for loads, the usual price for feed oats being 24c to 25c. For milling oats 26c to 30c is offered as to quality, but there are scarcely any that will bring over 26c.

EXPLANATION.
DEAR SIR: May I ask you for a little of your valuable space to explain a personal matter? I refer to a regrettable incident which occurred to me while coyote hunting on Sunday last. My dog, while ranging wide inside the Hudson's Bay pasture unfortunately stumbled on to a coyote in a trap. I had the gentleman who was hunting with me, tied our horses to the fence and ran over, but arrived too late to save the trap from the four hounds. I threw the trap away, skinned the coyote and proceeded to town to blow about the fine run we had had. However, some one had observed us, I sold the hide to Mr. Van Koughnet for $25.00 between you and I, Mr. Editor, I felt to see how he will ever get his money back. To all this I plead guilty, but the following are extenuating circumstances. Firstly, the dogs were out of control. Secondly, we did our best to stop them. And the coyote himself was a ragged haired, belted brute anyhow, and the puzzle to me is to guess which he was most distinguished for, his beauty or his crime. The owner of the trap, (who was on to his job) cannot any longer feel aggrieved after reading this explanation. I have incurred a great deal of annoyance over the matter, and so, hoping you will publish my justification.
I remain yours sincerely,
W. E. H. STOKES.

DEED GRANT TESTS.
The following circular has been received from the director of the central experiment farm, Ottawa: The unfavorable weather which has prevailed in many parts of the Canadian Northwest during the harvest season has, in many instances, injured the germinating power of the grain and rendered it unfit for seed. Under the circumstances, no farmer should undertake so costly an experiment as the sowing of any doubtful seed. In every case the proportion which will germinate should be ascertained, as this can be done without cost to the farmer.
Samples for test may be sent now, or at any time during the winter, in any number desired, addressed to the director of the Experimental Farm, Ottawa. An ounce of the grain is sufficient, which can be enclosed in an envelope and sent free through mail. The germinating power of the samples sent will be ascertained and a report of the test forwarded to the sender as promptly as possible.

Director.
